Art Unit: 1626

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on 19 October 2005 has been entered.

Status of the Claims

Claims 7-20 and 23 have been cancelled. Therefore, claims 1-6, 21, 22 and 24-45 are pending in this application. Since the claims directed to the compounds have been found allowable the method of use now have been rejoined and all pending claims have been examined together.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 30-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention with out undue experimentation.

Art Unit: 1626

In In re Wands, 8 USPQ2d 1400 (1988), factors to be considered in determining whether a disclosure meets the enablement requirement of 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, have been described. They are:

1. the nature of the invention,
2. the state of the prior art,
3. the predictability or lack thereof in the art,
4. the amount of direction or guidance present,
5. the presence or absence of working examples,
6. the breadth of the claims,
7. the quantity of experimentation needed, and
8. the level of the skill in the art.

In the instant case, claims 30-36, 44 and 45 are directed to method of treating cardiovascular diseases, angiogenesis, erectile dysfunction, diabetes, restricted ability to learn, asthma etc. The claim as written reads on all cardiovascular abnormalities and diseases such as cancer which is broader than the enabling specification. Many of the diseases are unrelated and the specification on pages 1-3 discusses mainly cardiovascular disorders. There is no data regarding to angiogenetic disorder such as cancer or other disorders such as erectile dysfunction. The nature of pharmaceutical arts is that it involves screening in vitro and in vivo to determine which compounds exhibit the desired pharmacological activities. There is no absolute predictability even in view of the seemingly high level of skill in the art. The existence of these obstacles establishes that the contemporary knowledge in the art would prevent one of ordinary skill in the art from accepting any therapeutic regimen on its face. As defined the compound reads on treating all tumors which is broader than the enabling disclosure. The cancer therapy art remains highly unpredictable, and no example exists for efficacy of a single product against tumors generally. Specifically, Internal Medicine, 4th Edition, Editor-in-Chief Jay Stein, Chapters 71-72, pages 699-715, teaches that the various types of cancers have different causative agents, involve different cellular mechanisms, and, consequently, differ in treatment protocol. It is also known that certain tumors are dependent upon estrogen for their induction or stimulation (e.g. breast tumors) and others are not. See USPs 4605661 and 4916144. Chemotherapeutic agents are frequently useful against a specific type of neoplasm and especially with the unpredictability of the art there are no drugs broadly effective against all forms of cancer. (Carter, S. K. et al. Chemotherapy of Cancer; Second edition; John Wiley & Sons : New York, 1981; appendix C). The compounds which are disclosed in the specification have no pharmacological data regarding the treatment of all the cancer types listed in claim 24. It is suggested to that the claim be limited to the specific cancer diseases enabled in the specification.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-6, 21, 22, 24-29 are allowable over the prior art.
